antihistamines are usually used for allergies because they block histamine which causes inflammation and other symptoms of allergic reaction the therapist provides reassurance, explains the reason why premature ejaculation occurs, and teaches the person strategies for delaying ejaculation