"the network will also serve to reduce the number of adverse drug interactions because health care professionals will be able to see what a patient is taking.";

this may make the problem seem worse than it really is.